KING RAYMOND

FARMINGTON MET IN CARNIVAL GAME

With a razz-ma-tazz cheering section; with the hunky-dory cheer leaders and leaderettes; and above all, with the pep, vim, and vigor boys the coach introduced us to at assembly, the Fitchburg basketball team will go to town tomorrow night at the R. F. Brown gymnasium against the boys from Farmington Normal from 'way up in Maine.

With only one victory to their credit, the T. C.'ers are determined to keep the three defeats from mounting any higher—defeats which took place away from home at Worcester, Bridgewater,

The dance will start at eight o'clock and continue until eleven thirty. The refreshments, to be served in the lobby during intermission, will be unique and novel. The lobby and staircases as well as the library will be artistically and appropriately decorated to lend

Editorial—

Have you ever noticed that a great many of the people at our school do not know the words to their fight songs? Are you one of those people? When you attend a basketball game, or another similar activity where school songs are sung, do you stand and half-heartedly mumble the few words that you know, or do you stand with your mouth closed tight and just look glum?

Such an attitude on the part of individuals who can sing certainly represents a lack of school spirit. In addition, it suggests extreme laziness, for such a person is either too lazy to learn the words, or is too tired to open his mouth. (A sad plight indeed!)

The presentation to the school of "Fight On", by the Sophomore Class, is a manifestation of the height of school spirit. The least we can do is to learn the words of the song.

Munro Leaf would probably characterize one without the enthusiasm either to learn the words of his school songs or to sing them with zest,—as a "WON'T—SING." In case you do not know it, a watchdog dislikes a "WON'T—SING." If you should go to the basketball game Saturday night without knowing your fight songs,—beware—a watchdog might see you and drag you away from the game!

Watchdogs watch "WON'T SINGS."

The watchdogs are watching you.

Are you a "WON'T SING?"

FITCHBURG LOSES TO BRIDGEWATER, HYANNIS

A tired Fitchburg basketball team lost to Hyannis, 41 to 30 at Hyannis last Saturday.

The Fitchburg boys, tired after a long trip and a hard game the night before, suffered defeat to a fast, sharpshooting Hyannis team. The game was exciting throughout.

Fitchburg led 26 to 18 at the half. Then they slowed down considerably and Hyannis surged ahead to win. Hyannis had an undefeated veteran team against the Fitchburgers.

T. Maki, star for Hyannis, was highscorer and leader of the game, with 21 points to his credit. This is more than half of the points scored by his team.

The boys were entertained at the half by an exhibition of statuary. Painted completely in silver, members of the Hyannis Physical Culture department performed excellent and difficult feats.

Fitchburg T. C. hoopsters were defeated by Bridgewater, there, 44 to 41 in a fast, furious game that went into two overtime periods.

In the first period both teams went to work quickly. The guarding was close, however and not many shots were made. Bridgewater led at the end of the half 21-14.

In the second half, Fitchburg scored six points almost immediately. From this point Fitchburg followed close to Bridgewater. The game became faster and the crowd became louder. At the end of the third period the score was Bridgewater 30, Fitchburg 28.

The Fitchburg boys returned to score rapidly and at one point led Bridgewater 37-32.

There was an argument here. The Fitchburg scorers had the score Bridgewater 30—Fitchburg 37. Several others had this score.

FACULTY PLANS REORGANIZATION

At a meeting of the faculty held last month, a new plan for faculty reorganization was unanimously adopted. At a meeting held early in September a committee composed of Miss Marie Gearan, Mr. James Hammond, and with Mr. Arthur Harrington as chairman was appointed to study the matter.

It was found that there were fourteen different faculty committees and their duties often overlapped and duplication of work was often done. The new plan will give a more utilized plan of faculty relation and a more efficient and economic function by the faculty committees. This plan coordinates the work of the faculty committees and the Student Cooperative Association.

The plan is as follows..

A faculty council, consisting of the chairmen of the five standing committees, and the faculty representatives on the Massachusetts State Teachers College Association Board, will co-ordinate the various faculty activities.

I. Educational program—5 members—concerned with prob-

The Bridgewater scorers had Bridgewater 32—Fitchburg 37. But since the rules say the home scorer is official, the referee ruled the score 37—32 official.

Bridgewater tied up the score and the game went into its first 5 minute overtime period. Each team scored 4 points and the score was 41—41 at the end of the overtime.

In the second overtime period Bridgewater got a basket and a foul shot to win the game 44—41.

Two substitutions were made—Bennett replacing Berry and Marella going in for Deveikis. Chet Smith scored 16 points and Dick Bejoune, 10.

The Jayvees lost to the Bridgewater Jayvees 26—21.

POINTS CHECKED AT W.A.A. MEETING

A meeting of the W. A. A. was held in the large Assembly Hall on Monday and was well attended by both teams. A check-up on "points" was taken and all those who did not attend the meeting are urged to record their points on their sheet and pass it in to Pres. Hughes or give it to their Class representative. Helen Chadwick was elected Freshman representative and will serve on the board for the rest of the school year. Members of the orange and white teams are planning new spring costumes to represent their team when playing "color" games. Wonder which team will be the first to model theirs????

SOPHOMORES PRESENT SONG AT ASSEMBLY

Tuesday's assembly consisted of two main features, the first being a professional lecture by Mr. Holmes, Director of the Training schools; and the second a sports rally, with songs and cheers.

Mr. Holmes gave a digest of his personal philosophy of education. He emphasized the need of a "sense of direction" in American education, maintaining that we Americans have a clear picture of what we don't want, dictatorship and tyranny. Mr. Holmes declared that a common basis of belief is necessary in a democracy if we are to protect it from the attacks of alien "isms".

Among the basic principles of democracy upon which all should agree the speaker listed:

1. The moral worth of the individual.

2. Government is made for man, not man for government.

3. Government should be by discussion and consent.

4. Every citizen has the right to vote, stand for office, and speak freely.

5. The citizen has the right to peacefully alter his government when necessary.

6. Government may not invade the field of religion.

7. Government should be concerned with the welfare of everybody rather than of small restricted groups.

Mr. Holmes concluded his timely and informative talk with a reminder to his audience that an American teacher's methods and procedure are largely determined by his or her own personal philosophy which should harmonize with the essential tenets of democracy.

The Sophomores, under the direction of Roger Pauze, opened the sports rally by singing the new Fitchburg fight song, the music of which was written by Kenneth Sweeney. This song, which was enthusiastically received is the Sophomores' contribution to our goal of a bigger and better school spirit.

Mr. Louis Kulcinski, coach of basketball spoke briefly and introduced the members of the varsity squad individually; Berry, Konsavage, Smith, Bejune, Deveikis, Bennett, Amsler Marell. The Jayvee team was then introduced as a unit and took a bow.

The rally was concluded with the rendition of our school cheers by the student body under the direction of cheerleaders: Dick Kelliher, Norma Hadd, Jane Lane, and Tena Sironaitis.

the atmosphere and setting desired. The music will be furnished. A unique lighting effect, one which has been enthusiastically received in some of the largest eastern colleges, will be the feature of the decorations.

The music will be furnished by the highly-touted, rythmatic rapture of Ben Ritter's rollicking rhythm.

At the ball the class banner will be displayed for the first time and reveal the newly selected class colors. Along with this unveiling, the class song, which was written jointly by Jane Lane and Yolanda Bramante, will be sung.

An important addition to the dance will be the presence of the patrons and patronesses some of whom will be Dr. and Mrs. Herlihy, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes, and Mr. MacLean, the class sponsor.

There is still another feature which will make up this gala evening, namely the crowning of the Carnival King and Queen who will reign for the entire week-end.

The committee heads for the affairs are as follows:- Decorations—Edna Charrier. Reception—Marion Smith. Refreshments—Charles Dacey. Orchestra—John Hoye, Eino Hakala. Entertainment—Wallace Cunningham. Cleanup—Thomas Macklin.

KIRBY, SULLIVAN, LALLI CONDUCTING POLLS

A series of polls of general interest is being conducted by Paul Kirby, Dan Sullivan, and Joe Lalli. Student cooperation will be greatly appreciated. This week's subject is "In your opinion, who do you think will be the next President of the U. S.?" The results will be published in next week's Stick.

The next topic deals with the Academy Award Winners.

Campus Chatter

Friendships fading fast throughout the years
 Before our very eyes; Just like the tears
 Which fall upon the cheek and fade away
 Into the cosmic gases of the day.
 It's true that other friendships take their place
 As other tears will fall upon the face
 Sympathetic mourners of relief
 That help to comfort sorrow, pain' and grief
 But Oh! The dire and wretched circumstance
 That grasps the unsuspecting youth by chance
 A witch-like ray that permeates his heart
 Until his friends and he become apart,
 That ray the poets call the nymph of love
 Descending from the planets high above
 When pretty eyes may sparkle, wink, or roll
 That tears all sense of honor from the soul:
 And thus I've seen throughout my college days,
 Classmates trapped within this blinding craze
 Relinquishing their fellow friends for girls
 Forsaking stainless steel for use-less pearls
 Every meal from morning, noon, and night,
 They rush to Miller Hall, a most disgusting sight
 To hold the dainty, cherished, female hand;
 They deem the grandest prize in all the land.
 It's not in envy of their lot I speak
 Or that love has never blushed upon my cheek

DR. HERLIHY ADDRESSES TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

More active participation on the part of teachers in community activities was urged by Dr. Charles M. Herlihy, president of the Fitchburg Teachers College, at a meeting of the Fitchburg Teachers Association held at the Brown School Auditorium on Wednesday of this week. Speaking on the subject "Crusading for Democracy", he referred to a recent study of youth problems and through it emphasized that all teachers must "stir" for the sake of democracy and youth.

Dr. Herlihy also commended the work being done by Supt. George C. Francis in the program of guidance being developed in the local school system.

This was the first of two meetings on the theme of Democracy.

So come one and all—students and faculty; upperclassmen and lowerclassmen; trainers and non-trainers; commuters and dormers—EVERYONE! Come because it's a big game and come because it's the end of the Winter Carnival of 1940.

My Folks

They haven't lots of money, nor a staff of maids, it's true, But, for a sweeter couple you might search the whole world through.

Their home is not palatial but it's cozy and it's neat.

As a home for peace and comfort you will find it hard to beat.

They haven't many jewels, nor a powerful motor car, But they're worth your while to visit though you have to travel far.

They've never been to college but with knowledge they are blessed

If you're glad, or sad, or sorry, they know just what word is best.

They haven't got much money, still they're worth a lot I know. To know them is to love them, so you'll envy me, I vow, When I tell you that I'm packing, for I'm going home right now.
